

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

§ 10. The provisions of the act of 14th February, 1856, shall apply to the original and amended charters of this company.

§ 11. That section eight of the act of March 10, 1854, be amended as follows: Strike out all of said section after the word "necessary," and beginning with the words "they, their agents," &c., in the tenth line, and insert in lieu thereof the following, to-wit: Whenever it shall be necessary for said company to have, use, or occupy any land, material, or other property, in order to the construction of said road, or repairing the same, or the construction or repairing of their necessary works or buildings, it shall be lawful for the president, directors, or their agents, to take possession of said land or other property, after the verdict of a jury has been rendered, and after payment has made to the owners of the said land or material, in accordance with said verdict: Provided, That whenever the president and directors, or their agent, cannot agree with the owner or owners, or if the owner or owners, or any of them, be a feme covert, under age, non compos mentis, or out of the county in which the property may be, application may be made to any justice of the peace of said county, who shall thereupon issue his warrant, directed to the sheriff or any constable of said county, requiring him to summon twenty discreet men, not related to the owner, nor in any way interested, to meet on the land or near the property or materials to be valued, on a day named in said warrant, not less than ten nor more than twenty days after the issuing of the same; and if, at the time and place, any of the said jurors do not attend, said sheriff or constable shall forthwith summon as many jurors as may be necessary, with the jurors in attendance, and from them each party, if present, or if not present, by agent or otherwise, the sheriff or constable, for the party absent, may strike off four jurors, and the remaining twelve shall act as the jury of inquest of damages. The sheriff or constable may adjourn the jury from day to day, and if they cannot agree upon a verdict, it shall be his duty to discharge them and summon another to meet as soon as convenient. Before the jury acts, the sheriff or constable shall administer to them an oath or affirmation, that they will justly and impartially fix the damages which the owner or owners will sustain by the use and occupation of said property required by said company. The jury shall reduce their verdict to writing and sign the same, and it shall be returned by the sheriff or constable to the clerk of the circuit court of the county, and such clerk shall receive and file it in his office, and such verdict shall be confirmed by the circuit court at its next regular term, if no sufficient reason is shown by either party for setting it aside, and when so confirmed, it shall be recorded by the clerk, at the expense of said company; but if set aside, the court shall direct another inquisition to be held by the sheriff of the county, in the manner above prescribed: Provided, That the company may proceed to construct their said road or other improvement, as soon as the first verdict of the jury shall be returned, whether the same be set aside and a new jury ordered or not, and every inquisition shall describe the property, or the bounds of the land condemned, and the duration of interest in the same valued for the company; and such valuation, when tendered or paid to the owner or owners of said property, or to the sheriff of the county in which said inquest is held, when the owner or owners do not reside in such county, shall entitle said company to the use or interest in the same thus valued, as fully as if it had been conveyed to it by the owner or owners of the same. If the person or persons in possession of the land shall hold an estate for years or for life therein, it shall be the duty of the jury to find the aggregate amount of damages, and the circuit court of the county shall apportion the damages, found by them to be due, between the owner of the estate for years or for life and the person or persons holding the remainder or reversion therein. If the person in possession of the land, or the owner thereof, upon a tender being made of the amount of damages fixed by the jury, or by the circuit court, in case an appeal is taken, shall refuse to receive the same, it shall be lawful for the company to deposit the same with the sheriff of the county in which the inquisition is had; the said sheriff shall previously execute bond with security, in the county court of said county, to pay it to such person or persons entitled thereto whenever they may demand the same. If the person in possession of the land be not the owner of it, before he shall be entitled to receive the damages assessed by the jury, he shall execute bond, with good security to the said company, that he will faithfully pay over to the owner of the land the money so received by him; and in case he fails or refuses, upon demand of the company, to execute the bond, it shall be lawful for the company, or its agents, to deposit the money with the sheriff, in the manner hereinbefore provided, upon the execution of a similar bond by him. If the land be vacant, or the owner live out of the county or State, or be unknown, upon the rendition of the verdict of the jury, a deposit of the amount fixed thereby with the sheriff of the county, shall authorize an entry by the company upon the land: Provided, The sheriff first executes bond as hereinbefore provided. Where it is ascertained that the person in possession holds an estate for years or for life, and the remainder or reversion is in another or others, a payment to him of the aggregate amount fixed by the jury shall be sufficient, and the company shall have the right to demand from him a bond, with security, that he will pay to the remainderman or reversioner the amount to be adjudged to him by the circuit court; and if he refuse to execute said bond, the company may deposit the amount with the sheriff, who shall execute bond as above directed, and then the company may enter and take possession of the land: Provided, That land condemned for road-way shall not be more than one hundred feet wide, unless said company shall file the affidavit of some one of its engineers, stating that a greater width is necessary and how much more is required, when the inquisition shall be for the quantity thus stated.

§ 12. This act shall take effect when the president and board of directors, and those owning a majority of the stock of said company, shall, at a regular meeting of said board, authorize and require the secretary of said company to file, in the office of the Secretary of State, a written acceptance, upon the part of the company, of the provisions of this act within ninety days from its passage.

On any increase of the capital stock of the company as allowed by the third section of this act, such increase may be disposed of by the company to the best interest of the stockholders.

§ 15. This company shall be liable to taxation like an individual by the State and the counties and cities in which its properties may be situated; but should it build a railroad, as herein provided for, then, on such railroad and its incidents, it shall pay taxes as provided for by the act to tax railroads, approved February 20, 1864.

May acquire and hold landings on rivers, depots, &c

§ 18. The said company may purchase or lease, own and control, any landing or any lands they may need or wish to use as a landing, depots, places of deposit for coal, ores, produce and merchandise, and for handling the same; and shall not acquire any landing on any river by condemnation, nor otherwise than by purchase or lease.

§ 19. Said company may, after acquiring the right of way by purchase or by gift, as provided in the next preceding section, construct from any existing railroad or any railroad hereafter to be constructed, a way, of the kind to suit their business, whether railway or tramway, to any place of deposit or landing on any river that they may own or have leased or condemned. In constructing such way, said company shall not, except for purposes of construction, obstruct any public highway, nor shall they connect their way with any existing railroad, unless upon terms to be agreed on with such railroad company. On the way so to be constructed said company may carry all the articles to be transported by them, and for the purpose may own and run engines and cars, and may make running arrangements with such railroad companies.

Standing of stock on books.

§ 20. The stock of this company shall only be transferable on the books of the company. On all stock fully paid for, the subscriber shall be entitled to certificates of stock; which certificates shall be issued under the seal of the company, and signed by the president and secretary thereof, and shall show the number of shares to which the holder is entitled. The certificates may be for as many of such shares as the owner may desire. Such certificates may be renewed, if proper; but on all renewals the old certificates, unless lost or destroyed, shall first be delivered up to be canceled; and when so canceled, they shall be preserved by the secretary. Should any such loss or destruction occur, on satisfactory proof thereof to the board of directors, new certificates shall be issued to replace those lost or destroyed.

§ 21. This act shall at all times be subject to modification or repeal, at the pleasure of the General Assembly.

May build a rail-

ville, Henderson, and Nashville Railroad; and if on the Ohio river, then not less than twenty miles west of the city of Henderson. They may, in order to own such railroad facilities as are intended to be hereby granted, agree with any railroad chartered by this State, to lay down a third or fourth rail on said railroad on terms to be agreed on between this company and such other railroads. They may bridge either the Cumberland, Tennessee, Tradewater, or Ohio rivers, and any intermediate streams in their route, but under the same rights and restrictions as are imposed on other railroad companies authorized to bridge such streams; and they shall not obstruct navigation in so bridging such streams. They may acquire all lands necessary for right of way (not over sixty feet in width), depots, workshops, machine-shops, round-houses, water-tanks, and other proper and necessary structures for the railroad, either by purchasing the same, or by condemning the same by writ of ad quod damnum, with the same effect, and in the same way and manner, as the condemnation of property for other purposes is provided for in the Revised Statutes. When the company shall have paid to the owners the money at which said land was first appraised by those appointed, the company may then enter on the land, and proceed to subject it to the uses for which it was condemned; but in the event of an appeal from such original or any intermediate valuation, if on the trial and final termination of the cause the land is valued higher than by the persons aforesaid, the company shall forthwith pay such excess over the amount so paid, or else vacate the land so taken. But should they pay such excess and costs after vacating, as herein provided, they may then re-enter on such land. No exceptions to the report of such persons, nor shall any appeal in such causes, prevent the entry of the said company on such land after they have paid the original valuation of the same, and the costs of the proceeding. Said company may fix the gauge of their railroad, and may build it with single or double track. They may run engines and cars upon the same as other railroads are authorized to do. They may connect their track with that of other railroads incorporated by this State; and instead of terminating on either the Cumberland, Ohio, Tradewater, or Tennessee rivers, they may, on terms to be agreed on between the companies, connect their track with that of any other railroad, and may make running arrangements with any railroad in this State.

May condemn right of way for same.

§ 23. Said company shall be public common carriers, and subject to the laws regulating such.

§ 9. The said railway company may obtain, by voluntary agreement with the owners of the same, the right of way for their railway and its branches; also lands for station and depot grounds, side-tracks, wharves, or landings, or for any other purpose necessary to the proper construction and maintenance of the said railway and branches; and if the right of way or any land, earth, stone, timber, or other materials or improvements which may be wanted for the construction or repair of said road, or any of their works, for the purchase in fee-simple, or the use and occupation of the same, cannot be procured by voluntary agreement with the owner or owners of the same, or if the owner or owners of any of them be a feme covert, under age, non compos mentis, or out of the county in which the property may lie, application may be made to any justice of the peace of said county, who shall thereupon issue his warrant, directed to the sheriff or any constable of said county, requiring him to summon twenty discreet men, not related to the owner, nor in any way interested, to meet on the land or near the property or materials to be valued, on a day named in said warrant, not less than ten nor more than twenty days after the issuing of the same; and if, at the time and place, any of the said jurors do not attend, said sheriff or constable shall forthwith summon as many jurors as may be necessary, with the jurors in attendance, and from them each party, if present, or if not present, by agent or otherwise, the sheriff or constable for the party absent, may strike off four jurors, and the remaining twelve shall act as the jury of inquest of damages. If the person or persons in possession of the land shall hold an estate for life or years therein, it shall be the duty of the jury to find the aggregate amount of damages found by them to be due between the owner of the estate for years or life, and the person or persons holding the remainder or reversion thereof. If the person in possession of the land, or the owner thereof, upon a tender being made to him of the amount of damages fixed by the jury upon the land, or by the circuit court, in case an appeal is taken, shall refuse to receive the same, it shall be lawful for the company to deposit the same with the sheriff of the county in which the inquisition is had: Provided, The said sheriff shall previously execute bond, with security, in the county court of the said county, to pay it to such person or persons entitled thereto, whenever they may demand the same. If the person in possession of the land be not the owner of it, before he shall be entitled to receive the damages assessed by the jury, he shall execute bond, with good security, to the said company, that he will faithfully pay over to the owner of the land the money so received by him; and in case he fails or refuses, upon demand of the company, to execute the bond, it shall be lawful for the company, or its agents, to deposit the money with the sheriff in the same manner as hereinbefore provided, upon the execution of a similar bond by him. If the land be vacant, or the owner lives out of the county or State, or be unknown, upon the rendition of the verdict of the jury, a deposit of the amount fixed thereby with the sheriff of the county shall authorize an entry by the company upon the land, provided the sheriff first execute bond as hereinbefore provided. Where it is ascertained that the person in possession holds an estate for years or for life, and the remainder or reversion is in another or others, a payment to him of the aggregate amount fixed by the jury shall be sufficient, and the company shall have the right to demand from him a bond, with security, that he will pay to the remainderman or reversioner the amount adjudged to him by the circuit court; and if he refuse to execute said bond, the company may deposit the amount with the sheriff, who shall execute bond as above directed, and then the company may enter and take possession of the land: Provided, That land condemned for road-way shall not be more than one hundred feet wide.

§ 10. The said company is authorized to build, own, and operate, in whole or in part, a line of telegraph over or along its lines of railway and branches.

May build telegraph.

§ 11. The said company may receive and hold any donations or grants of land, money, or bonds made to it by an individual, or association of individuals.

Receive donations.

§ 12. The county courts of the several counties through which or near to which the line of the said railway or any of its branches may pass, are hereby authorized to subscribe to the stock of the said railway company, under the following restrictions and in the manner hereby prescribed, viz:

County courts may take stock.

1st. The aggregate amount subscribed to the stock of said company, by the said county courts, shall in no case exceed five (5) per centum of the aggregate value of the taxable property of the county; as shown by the assessor's tax lists for the fiscal year within which said subscription shall be made; and the amount to be paid in any one year shall not exceed two and one half (2½) per cent. of the value aforesaid.

Proceedings in relation thereto.

2d. When the presiding judge of the county court of any county, as aforesaid, shall receive written application in the manner hereinafter specified, from the president or other executive officer of said company, asking for the issue of an order by said judge for a special election to be had by the legal voters of such county, to determine whether they will make a subscription to the stock of said railway company, the said presiding judge may, within five (5) days of the receipt by him of such application, issue an order for such election to be held at the several voting places of the county, within thirty (30) days from the date of such order; and to the end that a full and fair expression of the popular will upon the question may be obtained, the proposition made by said railway company shall be fully recited in said order.
